

Mark Schall

Executive Coach - PCC, CPC

Mark specializes in the area of interpersonal communication, conflict resolution and Energy Leadership. He is a recognized expert coach, facilitator, educator and Lead

Instructor for the Institute for Professional Excellence in Coaching (iPEC), teaching iPEC's coach certification training program and mentoring coaches throughout the US, Canada and Europe. The "coaches' coach" has trained close to 1,500 certified professional coaches to date.

Mark's experience includes speaking and facilitating as well as coaching managers, executives and front-line employees at some of the nation's top companies and government organizations including American Express, Mass Mutual Financial, NASA and Bristol Myers-Squibb.

His clients include executives at all levels in their careers from a wide range of industries, including finance, media, healthcare, coaching and communication.

With his HR experience, a keen understanding of pragmatic business issues and an innate curiosity, Mark knows how to ask the right questions that help people and organizations move forward by delving into the intricate dynamics that exist in the relationships between the organization's various stakeholders—externally and internally.

Mark is certified by iPEC and is a member of the International Coach Federation (ICF). He is certified to administer the Hogan, Energy Leadership Index and the Core Values Index assessments.

Mark holds a Master of Arts in Counseling/Human Development from Indiana University of Pennsylvania and a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from SUNY Stony Brook.
